

Dr. Seyed Mohammad Hosseini in the Introduction Ceremony: We must make every effort to achieve high academic rankings at the University of Islamic Denominations worldwide

Dr. Seyed Mohammad Hosseini, the new chancellor of the University of Islamic Denominations, thanked the Secretary General of the World Association for the Rapprochement of Islamic Denominations and Dr. Mokhtari, former chancellor of the University of Islamic Denominations, for his efforts in the field of rapprochement such as Ayatollah Boroujerdi, Ayatollah Vaezzadeh Khorasani, Ayatollah Taskhiri And ... he pointed out and asked for forgiveness and mercy for the dead in this field.

He pointed out: "We should not waste time, but we should make every effort so that this university can achieve high academic rankings in the world, which of course is not an easy task, but we should not doubt in this regard." We all need to work together to achieve this, I hope the relevant agencies will help us in this regard.

Dr. Hosseini continued: "The Islamic world is a factor of many blessings and we can use the experiences of each of its people to have various programs in the fields of administration, finance and science at the university and start a new chapter."

The new chancellor of the University of Islamic Denominations continued his condolences on the occasion of Arbaeen Hosseini days and said: "The atmosphere that exists in Arbaeen is a display of power, friendship between all followers of Islamic Denominations and this space should be used effectively."
